

Statement of participation

Oluwaseun Ajayi

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Exploring equality and equity in education

This 10-hour course considered the complexity of social justice as applied to education.

Issue date: 2 November 2023

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification.
This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.

Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/education-development/exploring-equality-and-equity-education/content-section-0>

COURSE CODE: EE814_1

Exploring equality and equity in education

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/education-development/exploring-equality-and-equity-education/content-section-0>

Course summary

This free course, Exploring equality and equity in education, considers the complexity of social justice as applied to education and reflects on the different purposes of, and value ascribed to, education in different countries and cultures. It discusses different conceptions of 'justice' and the distinction between equity and equality.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- delineate different understandings of equality in education
- give some examples of inequalities in different cultures and jurisdictions.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Equality and you

Section 2

Other perceptions of equality

Section 3

An example of the construction of inequality

Section 4

A human rights approach

Section 5

Inequality in different contexts

Section 6

Conclusion